COUNCIL DECIDES

ON 72 MILLS

Tax Levy for the Current Year Fixed by City Council.

IT WILL PRODUCE $227,121.

Question Was Settled in Executive Session-Levy Same as Last Year -From the Auditor.

Eleven members of the City Council net in open and executive session last evening, and for nearly two hours grappled with the all-important tax question. Before adjournment it was fecided to fix the levy at seven and a ualf mills, divided as follows: For coningent expenses, 5 mills; for street and sidewalks, 1 11-12 mills; for sewers, 2-12 of a mill; for maintenance of the public lbrary, 3-12 of a mill. Last year the levy was 7% mills, divided as follows: For contingent expenses, 4% mills; ex-pense of controlling the water, 1 5-12 nills; for streets and sidewalks, 1 or sewers, 1-3 of a mill; public library,

The 7% mills decided upon for the current year will, on the assessed valu-ation of $31,876.516 produce a total rev-enue of $239.074, less about 5 per cent for uncollectable taxes, making the net amount of $227,121 as against last year's 7½ mills on a valuation of $30,-681,739, making $230,113 less for uncol-lectables $11,505, net revenue $218,608, an increase for the current year in revue of $8,513, owing to the increase in

The 5 mills for contingent purposes this year will yield $159,382, less 5 per cent for uncollectables, $7,969, net $151, 413. The 1 11-12 mills for streets, $61. 96, les 5 per cent, $2,054, net $58,042. 4-12ths of a mill for sewers, $10,625, less 5 per cent, $531, net $10,094. The 3-12ths of a mill for the library, $7,969, less 5 per cent, $397, net $7,572.

EXECUTIVE SESSION.

Early in the evening the members cess was only taken for twenty minutes. Robertson, it is understood, thought the levy should be at least eight mills, and in support of his posisition submitted an estimate of the probable receipts and disbursements which showed that even with an eight-mill tax there would be a deficit of Buckle, Thomas and Howe (C. R.) favored a seven-mill rate and talked in that strain. After the discussion had concluded all present agreed to a substitute ordinance providing for the seven and a balf mills.

HERE IS THE ESTIMATE. Robertson's estimate of the receipts and disbursements is as follows: RECEIPTS.

FROM THE AUDITOR. City Auditor Albert S. Reiser sent in a communication to the Council calling necessity of senarating the funds col-lected by taxation and, as a guide to the members in fixing the rate of tax-ation for the various funds, submitted an estimate of the expenditures of the current year. Auditor Reiser's communication follows:

"In a recent communication addressed to your honorable body. I drew attenthe city auditor to certify to the legall ty of warrants, and explained some the practical effects of complying withis statute, one of which being complete separation of the funds of ected by taxation for street, sewer at ected for general expenses. in fixing the rate of taxation for these funds, I submit herewith an estimate of the expenditures for the current year

"For streets and sidewalks, $30,851.62 "For water supply for irrigation and other purposes, which includes main-tenance of irrigation and water comfor which the proposed issue of bonds ire to be used, $39.918.85 "For maintenance of sewers and drains, $1,494.38. "A levy of one mill for streets; one and one-fourth mill for water; and one-twelfth of one mill for sewers will

"As the levy for contingent expenses under the law must cover all expendiires for which special funds are not bryided by the statutes, and as the vy for contingent expenses is limited y law to five mills on the dollar. I aggest that that rate be adopted by our honorable body. This will make total levy of seven and six-twentieth is, exclusive of the rate for the pub Hbrary."

FUNERAL AND FORTUNE.

The One Held, the Other Missing -Where is John Smith's Money?

The funeral of John Smith, the well nown hackman, was held from the Twenty-first ward meeting house at 5 clock yesterday afternoon, Elder Walter Williams, by deputation of Bishop Woolley, conducting the services. A considerable number of friends of the deceased attended the obsequies and thus paid their last respects to ished the musical exercises under the leadership of Conductor McIntyre. Prayer was offered by Elder Edward

Brewster,
The speakers were Elders C, W. Penrose and John Gallacher, both of whom had enjoyed a long acquaintance with the departed and both of whom referred to the best characteristics of his life and paid tribute to them. The benediction was pronounced by Elder Williams, after which the funeral cortege proceeded to the city cemetery where the interment took place. Prior to the services at the meeting houses the renains were viewed at the residence of drs. Adams, a sister of the deceased. pail-bearers were all old friends

The fact that Mr. Smith died without money or rather, that his relatives and friends have thus far failed to find any, the ownership of which vested in him, is the source of a good deal of speculation. While not a wealthy man, is known that he recently had at ast $1,000 in cash and that he was heard to say that he had loaned $400 of that amount to a certain individual, yet he died penniless and not even a name, memorandum or scrap of pal of any kind has been discovered that points to the identity of those to whom nis money was probably loaned on the word promise of payment. Should any one know where this money has been placed they will confer a great favor ipon Mrs. Adams, his sister, who has been obliged to incur all expenses con-nected with his funeral, by communicating the fact to her. HE SHOOTS AT ROBBERS.

Attorney Stanley Price, Single Handed and Alone, Fires Upon Burglars.

Attorney Stanley Price had an exciting adventure with four would-be robbers early yesterday morning. Mr. Price resides at the residence of Mrs. Rachael Miller, who at present is in British Columbia. The place is situated at 245 north First West street. Mr.
Price was awakened by loud talking and the shuffling of feet. He supposed it was someone returning from the lake, but went to the window and looked out. He was somewhat surprised to er the pedestrian had gone up the street the four moved toword the house. One remained on watch while the other three went to the rear of the house and tried to pry open a sash. Mr. Price concluded that the time to act had come and loading his carbine stepped out on the veranda. The fellow on watch discovered him and pulled a gun from his pocket. Mr. Price promptly plazed awey and the fellow took to his

At last evening's council meeting Councilman Robertson submitted an ordinance authorizing the committee on finance to take the necessary steps looking to the issuance and sale of the $250,000 water bonds. The bill provides that the issue shall be in lawful money bonds, 100 of the denomination of $500 each and 200 of the denomination of $1,000 each; that the bonds shall be known as Salt Lake City water bonds and shall be issued and sold for the express purpose of increasing the water supply and improving the waterworks system; that the bonds shall bear date of August 20, 1900, payable twenty years from date in Salt Lake City, Interest not to exceed 4 per cent, payable semi-annually in New York or in Salt Lake City; that the bonds shall be advertised for ten days; that there shall be set aside in a special account annually out of the receipts of the waterworks department from water rates, a sufficient sum to pay the interest on the bonds; that the net receipts of the waterworks department shall be laid aside for the purpose of redeem laid aside for the purpose of redesin-ing the said bonds, and that the said fund shall be invested in United States, State of Utah, city or county of Salt Lake or Salt Lake City school bonds. The ordinance was passed by a unanimous vote.

STAND PIPE SPRINKLING. Canning offered a resolution instructng the board of public works to ad-vertise for bids for putting in a standlpe system of street sprinkling by hich the water from the Jordan and Sait Lake canal can be utilized. The cost of the work, according to Engineer Kelsey's estimate, will be $40,000, and the district to be sprinkled is from Sinth East to Third West streets, and rom Seventh South to First North treets. The resolution was amended as to provide that all or only part of the work might be done now.
